

Shoe News: French Shoe Designer VINCENT BOTTESI is Coming to L.A.

Young French shoemaker, designer and trendsetter Vincent Bottesi, will be in the United States for the first time to unveil and promote some of the new models of his shoe collection, on Tuesday, November 19 at the Library of the Montage Hotel Beverly Hills (225 N Canon Drive) between 6:30 and 9:00 PM.

Born in the French Dauphiné region, Vincent Bottesi is one of the hottest shoemaker designers of the moment. At only 25, the young Frenchman is making a Buzz everywhere he goes and is looking to visit the City of Stars next month and walk on the iconic Hollywood Walk of Fame. The LA visit is part of his “2013 US Discovery Tour” which includes stops in New York City, Los Angeles and Miami.

Vincent Bottesi designs high end shoes for women looking to wear unique and desirable models. The style and stunning designs of the models of his new collection includes names of iconic movie Stars to some of his summer collection models. Grace (Grace Kelly), Brigitte (Brigitte Bardot), Jane (Jane Fonda), Kim (Kim Basinger), Sophia (Sophia Loren) and other outstanding models, who along with the movie industry, inspired Bottesi’s latest designs.

Bottesi’s disposition for Art naturally led this young aesthete to stroll between various ways to express himself. Brilliant when acting or in applied arts, he was surprised to receive in 2010 the first Award in Shoe and Leather Goods in Romans-Sur-Isère, capital city of shoemaking. In 2011, the artist Vincent becomes Vincent Bottesi, the Designer. His shoes convey his personality, a sublime vision of femininity. Fearless and unusual, we must say, Vincent will be dream hunter and shoemaker. He’s willing to take care of the eternal womanliness. The shape of a leg, a wild curve, high heels, help reinventing the class of a regional know-how. He says that the brand he created is closely related to the person he is.

Little by little, Vincent's dream comes true. Since January 2013, he became the head of his own workshop in Romans as he bought the brand Pôle Cuir. Invited in Cannes for the 2013 Film Festival last May, the Croisette was able to discover his shoe creations. The young shoe artist caught the eye of the movie industry and since May Vincent is getting phone calls from celebrities around the world who want to order custom fit Vincent Bottesi shoes. Haute Couture is also taking a close look at his work for future collaboration.

Lead by Vincent Bottesi who supervises the entire making of his creations, the team behind the Vincent Bottesi shoe business moved to the former premises occupied by creators such as Kélian and Jourdan. The primary objective is to develop and market the Vincent Bottesi brand, thanks to his unique and enviable products. The company also provides a unit of study, modeling and prototyping, so that other designers could be properly welcomed. The company is also willing and able to offer its shoe making services to other brands for the manufacturing of their luxury shoes, produced in limited series, with a high handcrafted quality, and the traditional "made in France" label.
